Pokljuka in javni promet

Na vzhodnem robu Triglavskega narodnega parka leži visoka kraška planota Pokljuka, ki je prekrita s prostranimi smrekovimi gozdovi. Gozdne površine prekinjajo posamezne planine, na katerih se v poletnem času pase živina. Neokrnjena narava je privlačna za številne izletnike in pohodnike, ki se najpogosteje odločijo za obisk z osebnim avtomobilom. Z javnim avtobusnim prevozom želimo prispevati k manjšemu onesnaževanju zraka v občutljivem alpskem okolju, obvarovati rastlinstvo, zmanjšati hrup in se izogniti problemom gostega prometa in parkiranja. Javni prevoz nam nudi več časa za opazovanje narave in hkrati omogoča, da se nam ni treba vračati na isto izhodišče.

Hvala, ker nam pomagate ohranjati čisto okolje!

Pokljuka and public transport

The high-altitude karst plateau of Pokljuka flanking the eastern edge of the Triglav National Park is overgrown with vast spruce forests. From time to time, forest areas are interrupted by pastures where herds of cattle graze in the summer. This unspoiled nature attracts hikers and holidaymakers, most of them coming by car. We sincerely hope that the introduction of public bus transport will help control air pollution in the sensitive alpine environment, protect its flora, reduce the noise, and avoid the traffic congestion and parking issues. Moreover, visitors using public transport have more time to observe the beauty of nature as there is also no need to return to the original starting point of their route.

Thank you for helping us keep our environment clean!
